The Hester Beall Provensen Scholarship is awarded annually to an eligible female student majoring in Communications, Speech or the equivalent, in an institution of higher learning, graduate or undergraduate, in the greater Washington, DC area. Applicants must provide evidence of academic excellence and a commitment to pursue a career in the fields of Communication, Speech, or the equivalent. Evidence of financial need is not a requirement.

The recipient must be present at the Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, Maryland, on Wednesday, June 6, 2012, to receive the award. Further, the recipient will be expected to make a three-minute speech to the membership and guests at that time.

The amount of this year’s award will be $6,000 (six thousand dollars).

To apply, please submit the following required documents:

- the completed application
- a transcript
- a resume
- a one-page biographical essay stating why you wish to be the recipient of the scholarship
- a recommendation from a faculty member in the Communication, Speech, or equivalent department
